From the Desk of Outgoing ILA President

Dear all Library Professional fraternity,

It is a time to express my feelings as President of Indian Library Association. I have graceful mixed feelings as the outgoing President; during my tenure as President. I feel pride and privilege to have all supports from the ILA Council members, Executive Committee members and ILA members at large.

To make ILA functional in a more democratic manner I was able to organize and associate with state and national level seminars, conferences and workshops. I have proud to state that ILA is non-profitable, non-political professional associations of LIS fraternity wherein all heads and shoulders have always act as one family; irrespective of the level of each professional. It could be fair enough to state a fair assessment of my own tenure that whatever the aims and objectives I had at the beginning of my tenure as President. I could not achieve all during my tenure as a President because of certain limitations. But it is the team work through which we could achieve optimum in the last three years.

I got support from our bacon light seniors, friends, philosophers and guide at every stage. On behalf of the ILA and my own personal behalf I am thankful to all of them. I have no hesitation in stating that a timely and meticulously ILA News Letter would not have seen light of the day without the untiring commitment and dedication of Dr. S Sudarshan Rao, Dr. Kautilya Shukla and Dr. Rajesh Kr. Bhardwaj. I must acknowledge the team of editorial board for the Journal of Indian Library Association for editing the journal meticulously to meets its international standards. It would be worth mentioning the names of former Chief Editor Prof. Muttaya Koganuramath , present Chief Editor Dr. A L Moorthy, and all the Editorial Board members Prof Jagtar Singh, Dr. A R D Prasad, Prof. Sabahat Husain, and Prof. Ramesha who took every pain during their tenure for selfless professional works in spite of their other responsibilities and busy schedules. A special appreciation needs to be mentioned here is that of the editors of the conference volumes during my tenure to bring out conference volume in a short span of a time. I extend a special thanks to Prof. B Ramesha and his team.

I am personally thankful to the Organizing Secretaries and their teams; Shri Yogindera Singh and his team of 59th ILA Conference, Roorkee; Dr. Raj Kumar and his team of 60th ILA Conference, Chandigarh, and Dr. Nilesh N Soni and his team of 61st ILA Conference, Rajkot. A special thanks needs to be extended to a senior teacher, Professor K. G. Vaidya. Who accepted ILA request to act as an Election Officer for the ILA election 2016-19 and conducted the ILA election in an unbiased and fair manner.

I feel myself fortunate to record here long pending issue of ILA and the then IOC of ILA for holding of IFLA international Conference held in 1992, saving fund; finally Hon'able High Court verdict came in favour of ILA. It is worth mentioning here that Prof. P S G Kumar, & Prof. C P Vashishth, have initiated the efforts for conference savings should come to ILA. ILA would have not seen these days without untiring, dedicated, affirmative and selfless efforts of Prof. Girja Kumar, Prof. Muttaya Koganuramatth, Dr. Kautilya Shukla, Dr. D V Singh, Dr. Pardeep Rai and Dr. N S Shokeen to yield positive result in favour of ILA of long waited due amount.

Once again, I thank all the members at ILA in particular and LIS professional at large for giving me an opportunity to serve the profession during my tenure as ILA President.   PROF. ASHU SHOKEEN

Library Quote

I like libraries. It makes me feel comfortable and secure to have walls of words, beautiful and wise, all around me. I always feel better when I can see that there is something to hold back the shadows.

Message from Editor

Dear Readers of ILA Newsletter

The ILA 2016-2019, New Executive Body has been formed and the new Editorial Board for ILA Newsletter will be announced soon by the Executive Committee. On this occasion, I thank all our valuable readers who have been patronizing and communicating with us from time to time. Our active readers have provided us many constructive ideas, and provided content input for making the newsletter informative and a valuable source of information to LIS professionals..

We are happy to state that now, the quality and regularity of the Newsletter has been improved substantially. My term as Editorial Board Member of ILA Newsletter completes by 30th April, 2016. I express my sincere thanks to both senior colleague editors, Dr. S Sudarshan Rao and Dr. Kautilya Shukla for their proactive support and personal affection. Without their guidance it was not possible to carrying out this publication timely and accurately.

I cannot forget the past President of ILA Prof. Ashu Shokeen for extending this assignment w.e.f., January, 2015. I accepted this assignment since it was challenging to publish timely and accurately. Previously, its frequency was yearly / half yearly, but as advised by her, it is to be published monthly in Digital lectronic form. I am very satisfied that ILA Newsletter has been published regularly and timely during the tenure. I extend my sincere gratitude for her kind support and appraising my commitment on various platforms time to time.

I also thank to all colleagues of Executive Committee, ILA Council and senior professionals those who have extended their support to accomplishing this assignment.

DR. RAJESH KUMAR BHARDWAJ

From the Desk of New ILA President

Dear Colleagues,

At the outset, I wish to thank all library professionals in the country for supporting my candidature for ILA Presidentship.

As you are already aware, there is lot to be done still for our profession, despite of best efforts from all my predecessors. We are all thankful to them. However, all that I can assure you is that this newly formed council of ILA will do its best to address the problems being faced by the libraries and librarians in India. In the process, I need the support from the whole ILA fraternity.

The first basic assignment is the revamping of ILA website, making it a Dynamic site including online payment system. It has come to our Knowledge that the document on New Education Policy, 2015 is devoid of a section on 'Libraries'. All such issues are to be sorted out in the Council meeting scheduled on 1st May 2016. The following agenda items will come up for discussion:-

- Accreditation of Library Science Courses
- Appointments and Promotions of Librarians
- Inter-changeable qualifications for appointment as Librarians/Teachers of Library Science.
- Establishment of Indian Institute of Library and Information Science as recommended by NKC.
- Strengthening the Public Library Network from National level to Local Level.
- Parity of Scale of Pay and retirement age of librarians with the teachers.
- U.G.C. scheme of minor /major research projects.
- Introduction of LIS subjects in the curriculum of Under Graduate Courses.

I am confident to take the profession forward and look forward to your cooperation.

PROF. SHABAHAT HUSAIN

NPTEL platform: an initiative by MHRD: a Webometrics Review

Dr. Rajesh Kumar Bhardwaj

The National Programme on Technology Enhanced Learning (NPTEL) is a joint initiative of the seven Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT Bombay, Delhi, Guwahati, Kanpur, Kharagpur, Madras and Roorkee) and Indian Institute of Science Bangalore (IISc) for creating video and web course contents in engineering and sciences. Now, after 12 years of its access, there are 994+ web and video courses available for download and viewing on the NPTEL web site distributed under the Creative Commons by ShareAlike licence.

The NPTEL Open Online courses were initiated so that students from anywhere can directly learn from faculty of top colleges. The courses have no eligibility criteria and are open to anyone and everyone. Students can review and assess their progress and directly interact with course instructors to understand concepts better. While enrollment and learning is free, students can also obtain a certificate from the IITs, subject to successful completion of an exam, for which there is a nominal examination fee. Online learning offers a new way to explore subjects that one is passionate about. The platform covers 24 disciplines of science, engineering, technology, ocean, environment, mathematics and Humanities and Social Sciences including management.

The facts and figures have been fetched from the NPTEL Website as updated as on February 2016. About 994 web and video courses available on the project website and approximate 292 Million pages have been viewed by the users.

The result of another study by "M. Saravan and S. Mohammed Esmail" (2014) in International Journal of Information Services and Technology, ISSN: Vol.1, No.1, 2014, pp. 6-10 which confined only to the Thiruvallur district from 7 engineering college students and faculty members revealed the following results. The figure highlighted that most favored access point of the web resource.

Majority of them (74.33%) using from college library, Computer Lab and college Hostel (10.66%). This followed by the other location of access point is Browsing centre 9.33% and Home 5.66%.The data show that majority of user are accessing from their college Library. It is clearly said that library is to take part to provide information to the user.

The result of an another study conducted by Pratik Agrawal, Abhishek Kumar & Ankush Agrawal presented in 10th International CALIBER-2015 held at HP University and IIAS, Shimla, Himachal Pradesh during March 12-14, 2015 revealed that the Massive open online courses (MOOC's) are making huge impact on distance education. Large enrolment numbers clearly provide proof of that. While a Courser and EdX have made great progress in terms of user base in just two years of launching, but NPTEL hasn't evolved fast enough. While it is commendable that NPTEL is made great progress in terms of developing content, making it one of the largest open accessible repositories of education content. India and other developing countries face different set of problems like low bandwidths, lack of digital infrastructure and less digital literacy etc. are the issues included for low penetration of NPTEL.

NPTEL's effort to reach out to libraries and colleges and even to students across the country through sending course DVDs and Hard disks is an example of innovation driven by circumstances. Yet more efforts needed in technology enhancement and promoting the NPTEL platform.
